REMOTE MONITORING OF TECHNICAL INSTALLATIONS AND DEVICES

With CERTAS control, you can enjoy all the benefits that come with remote monitoring of technical installations and devices – giving you the peace of mind to enjoy your evening safe in the knowledge that your technical systems are being professionally monitored around the clock.

HOW DOES CERTAS CONTROL WORK?

1. Signal monitoring

Monitoring of all technical installations and devices – including those in private households.

2. Limit values

Assessment of the situation if the measurement values are outside of the defined normal range.

3. On-site intervention

Measures taken according to the agreed alert plan.

4. Controlling

Remote monitoring of the intervention and creation of a service report.

No two technical systems are the same. There are key differences depending on the size and specialisation. We would be happy to advise you on a customised holistic monitoring concept for your installation.

YOUR BENEFITS

Here at Certas, our staff respond immediately to every alarm signal, initiating the required measures agreed with you in advance without delay. Using alarm verification, we help to avoid costly false alarms.

If you wish, Certas can ensure that the security system is switched on at the end of the working day. Deviations from the rules such as access attempts by persons outside the working hours are forwarded immediately to the security officer.

With CERTAS control, you enjoy more security and less stress by delegating alarm processing to our security experts. Because you can't always be on site, an alarm system is only efficient when it is connected with a Certas alarm centre.

Certas operates three redundant alarm centres in Zurich, Lausanne and Lugano. The Certas staff can take calls in German, French, Italian and English.
