IMMEDIATE HELP FOR PEOPLE IN NEED

The call for help can be made by simply pressing a button on a stationary emergency call device, an emergency wristband or an amulet emergency call button. The automatically established voice connection allows our staff to quickly assess the situation and take all necessary measures.

HOW DOES CERTAS CARE WORK?

1. Alarm situation

Persons living alone carry a discreet transmitter, an emergency watch or have a stationary emergency call device in the room. This triggers an alarm either at the push of a button or following a defined pattern of behaviour, such as a fall.

2. Contact

An employee from our alarm center contacts the person living alone via voice communication on the emergency call device and enquires about their state of health and whether help is required. If the person does not answer, our staff contact the specified emergency contacts and mobilise them.

3. On-site intervention

Arrival of relatives, neighbours or emergency services and treatment of the person who has had an accident.

4. Service report

Creating a service report.

In an accident, every second counts. Those living alone are particularly vulnerable. With CERTAS care, you can rest assured that emergency services will be mobilised as quickly as possible in an emergency, with all necessary measures taken. This ensures that even those who are alone are never left on their own.

YOUR BENEFITS

Automatic alarm activation: Our emergency wristband can automatically register a fall and trigger an alarm. The alert is processed immediately by the employees in the Certas alarm centre.

Callback via emergency call device: In an accident, the injured person might be unable to move. Our emergency call devices automatically accept the callback by Certas and enable the accident victim to communicate with Certas.

Rapid alert: In a medical emergency, it is often a matter of seconds. It is important to react quickly and efficiently. Efficient alarm processing is an important part of the Certas security chain.

In addition to triggering alerts, our emergency call device enables straightforward and convenient communication with friends and relatives via video call (via WLAN or Internet connection). You can stay in contact "together" with the app, exchange information and receive text and picture messages.
